by WALTER M. BARRETT

Great deal of credit is due to Manager Verne Shattuck in regard to his progressive attitude in building new theaters and constantly improving his older houses in communities where he operates. Going ahead in a time when others are hesitant to make investments, Shattuck has proved that he is a courageous and far-sighted businessman. It is to be hoped that his latest venture in Downieville will be as fruitful as his similar investments in Loyalton and Truckee.

We have been particularly fortunate in this district with fires this season. Care will do much to keep a good record and everyone is urged to watch carefully, being always on the alert to prevent conflagrations. The powder-dry condition of the grass and brush, as indicated by a few incipient blazes, make an easy beginning for what might prove a disastrous fire. Tossing cigarettes or matches from a car or in the woods is a foolish thing to do aside from being a violation of the law. Above all things protect the little forest we have left. The Christmas tree choppers will soon move in and they cause sufficient damage without carelessness adding to our losses.

From August 30 through September 9 your state fair will be in full swing at Sacramento. It is a good idea to plan now to attend this event, one of the biggest state fairs in the world. No where, aside from extensive travel can you learn more of the state in which you live than by viewing the exhibits at State Fair.

Speaking of fairs, let's not forget that on September 20, 21 and 22, the Nevada County Fair and Horse Show will be held in Grass Valley. The Truckee Chamber of Commerce is preparing an exhibit and everyone is urged to obtain a list of entries and prepare to bring additional honors to Truckee through exhibits at the show.

Matters of vital importance to the region will be discussed at the meeting of the Lake Tahoe-Sierra Association meeting at Brockway Tuesday. All members are sincerely urged to attend and add voice to the plans being made to further promote this great recreational area. Only through close cooperation can a desired result be obtained and in the association this harmony of purpose can be achieved readily if you make it a point to join with others in the program.

WERGELAND PLACE SOLD TO WEEDEN

Sale of the O. B. Wergeland property on West Main street to Bert T. Weeden, former operator of the Sportland Pool Room, has been announced by Mrs. Wergeland, who has maintained the popular rooming establishment for many years.

Mrs. Wergeland said that her future plans are indefinite but that she proposes to leave for the Sacramento Valley district before winter.

Weeden said he will remodel the place, install steam heat and hot water in all the rooms and do a number of other things to improve the property.

Fires In Town Keep Truckee Firemen Busy

Old Power Plant On River Destroyed Last Saturday

CCC BOYS ARE CALLED

Four Fires In Week Result In Small Damage To Property

Four fires in this immediate district kept the local fire department, the forest service, the S. P. fire train and CCC boys on the jump this week.

The old power house on the Truckee River just east of town, occupied in the summer months by the Rablin family of Roseville, was completely destroyed, together with the old flume which was falling to pieces, on Saturday night. The personal belongings were saved by volunteers who rushed to the scene of the fire, which started in the old flume lumber, reached the house. The forest service, fire train and CCC boys prevented the spread of the blaze.

On Thursday afternoon an incipient fire caused only small damage to a shed in the rear of the Tourist Cafe. The fire department responded to a call and soon had the fire out.

A fast spreading grass and brush fire across the Truckee river just south of town caused some alarm before the fire department, forest service crews and CCC boys gained control.

Tuesday evening the forest service was called to the town dump where a blaze threatened to get out of control.

SAN JOSE MAN AGAIN MARKS DONNER TRAIL

P. M. Weddell of San Jose, who has made an extensive study of the pioneer Donner party trails, has been spending the past two weeks in Truckee where he continued marking the historic trail. The purpose of his recent visit was to outline the trail from the head of Alder Creek, the site of the Donner family camp, to the summit of the Sierra by way of Donner Lake to Mary Lake on the west slope.

Weddell started the work in cooperation with the late C. F. McGlashan several years ago and it was from the latter historian that the San Jose man gained much of his knowledge of the route of the ill-fated party.

Particular emphasis was placed on the strip of road between Prosser Creek and the Alder Creek camp this summer, this route being a rather puzzling problem.

Weddell wished to express his appreciation for the cooperation and encouragement given him by Truckee people.

FISH PLANTING SAID TO BE HAZARDOUS

That fish planting in California's rugged areas is a hazardous undertaking for employees of the state division of fish and game was revealed this week by A. E. Burghdoff, fish hatcheries supervisor of the bureau of fish conservation.

Pointing out that almost all of the trout planting work carried on by the division is in mountainous regions where roads and trails, where there are any, are steep and narrow, Inspector Burghdoff told of the wrecking of two automobiles and the loss of one pack mule during the present fish planting season.

The bureau of fish conservation reports that a total of 23,872,971 trout have been planted to date this season. This planting represents 11,608,234 rainbow, 4,118,630 eastern brook, 5,501,941 Loch Leven and 2,644,166 steelhead.

Mrs. Dan Smith, Mrs. Mary Roquett, Mrs. Claire Ellert, Mrs. Lucille Bick and Mrs. D. Cabona sang, accompanied by Mrs. George Kamp.

Pall bearers were Pete Borsi, J. Reuben, Peter Lazzari, John Cabona, Frank Kinne and E. Esola. The color bearers were Jasper Archie and A. Roquette and the guards were Frank Holt and Henry G. Loehr. On the firing squad were James McIver, H. O. Anderson, Ernest Siri and Charles Pierce.

Interment was in the Truckee cemetery under the direction of the W. H. Laity Funeral Home.

USELESS GUN FIRING WILL BE PROSECUTED

Officers have served notice that the unwarranted use of firearms about town must be stopped. They cite a section of the penal code which points out the practice is unlawful and promised to enforce the act unless it is stopped. The firing is done principally by young men who mean no harm or damage but who are not aware of the danger and the damage they might cause. No other notice will be given and arrests may be expected unless the shooting is stopped immediately in the town.

Little Interest Apparent With Election Near

Supervisor Contest is Only One Creating Much Discussion

With the primary election less than two weeks away, voters are turning their attentions to the candidates and issues at stake.

Old timers comment that this is one of the quietest pre-election periods ever experienced in this district where the contests for local officers are few.

In the state assembly race, Allen G. Thurman of Colfax, is opposed in the Republican primaries, but T. S. Marlor of Placerville has filed for the Democratic nomination.

Alex Robertson, incumbent county supervisor, has C. B. White and Ben Tonini as opponents.

These are the only contested offices, directly affecting the district. Jerrold L. Seawell, state senator, and Harry Englebright, U. S. representative, are unopposed as is Superior Judge George L. Jones of Nevada City.

Frank Titus is the only candidate on the Democratic central committee ballot in this supervisorial district and no one was entered in the Republican contest.

More than 11,000 voters in Nevada county have received this week samples of the ballots which will be used in the primary election.

Voters who are unable to vote in their precincts on election day have until Thursday, August 22, to apply for absent voters' ballots from the county clerk's office.

SHATTUCK ANNOUNCES OPENING OF THEATER

The new seats have been installed in the Donner Theater here this week, being used the first time on Saturday night. The seats are of the latest design and highest quality available and are a valuable addition to the local show house. They offer added comfort to the patrons, enjoyed in few houses even in metropolitan areas.

Manager V. C. Shattuck of the Sierra Theater Circuit also announced this week that the opening of the new Downieville Theater will be held next Tuesday with Deanna Durbin in 'It's a Date' as the featured attraction. Several groups of Truckee and Lake Tahoe people are planning to attend the affair.

Norman R. Mayfield, Tahoe City contractor, was the builder of the new show house in Sierra County.

CHIEF DOLLEY GIVEN BADGE AS MARSHAL

Fire Chief Jack Miller of Davis, deputy fire marshal, spoke before the meeting of the Truckee Fire Department Tuesday night and presented Chief N. F. Dolley of the local department with a new gold and silver deputy fire marshal's badge.

After a discussion in which Chief Miller led, the department voted to sponsor the purchase of the new inhalator and led the subscription list with $50. F. W. Gaiennie, Robert Siebold and Dolley were named on a committee to contact other organizations to secure financial backing for the project. The apparatus will cost approximately $500 which includes all necessary accessories.

Elliot Fisher of Marysville and Yell Nobles of Truckee.

The Lions will go to Downieville Tuesday evening where they will join the Lions in that city in celebrating the opening of V. C. Shattuck's new theater.

Directors Vote Financial Help For Fish Plan

Winter Sports Program to Be Studied Before Move Is Taken

BUDGET IS REQUESTED

$400 for Fish Raising Will Aid Club in Local Work

After taking under advisement a request of the Truckee Outing Club to substantially support a winter sports program for the coming season, the directors of the Truckee Public Utility District Tuesday night voted to contribute $400 to the Sierra Fish Planting Club.

The sum involved represents Truckee's share of rearing rainbow trout at the San Francisco Flycasting club's tanks each year for planting late in the fall in the Truckee River. D. E. Kessler, president of the club, announced that 150,000 trout would be raised this fall and that the allotment has been placed in the tanks.

The request of the Outing Club was taken under consideration for a week pending presentation of a tentative estimate of proposed expenditures. While no specific sum was agreed upon, it was understood that the allocation would be sufficient to promote a worthwhile program.

The club committee, meeting with the directors pointed out the vital necessity for finance if Truckee is to continue in the winter sports business. The primary aim is the erection of an up-ski tow and clearing of the hill and runways. It was estimated that $1000 would be necessary if present plans are carried through successfully.

A letter from the district's attorney, C. B. Chamberlain, was read which placed the responsibility for allotting money right in the hands of the directors. The letter did not advise for or against the use of the money for the purpose requested, leaving the directors in rather a difficult position with a decision resting upon their shoulders.

The proposed budget was suggested when it became apparent that several tentative plans were in the making only some of which can be hoped to be financed this year. It was stated that plans under consideration would range from $600 to $3000 or over $4000, the latter sums not being considered seriously at this time.

In reference to the work required, H. I. Snider, local forest ranger, attended the meeting of the Outing Club and indicated that it might be possible to procure the aid of CCC boys for some of the clearing work.

At the meeting of the Outing Club next Tuesday evening at the fire station the budget will be prepared for presentation to the directors and everyone interested in the program is urged to attend.

AS EVER YOURS

A few Democrats may feel badly that President Roosevelt looks "affectionately" yet unkindly upon Hiram Johnson, and that the senator, replying, has had a few words to say about the President. But these are not many.

Senator Johnson's "declaration of independence"—for that is all it is—is not anti-Democratic, and anyone who knows the record of the veteran statesman knows this is true.

Hiram Johnson simply is no party's man, but rather one of those rare men in public life who lives and acts by conscience alone.

Democrats should remember that they took great glee when the Senator more than once parted company with Republican Herbert Hoover; should remember this historic utterance of Johnson's before the Senate on June 11, 1929.

"I realize that there are some who, whenever the party lash is applied, crawl to the one who lashes them.

"I had rather be a toad and live upon the vapor of a dun-geon than sit in this body, or any body, and take orders on a question of conscience from any man on earth, no matter how exalted his position.

"I stand by the President when I believe him to be right, but when I believe him to be wrong I part with him, and I go my own way, and I go my own way with full knowledge of what the consequences may be."

That was yesterday. Today Hiram Johnson simply reiterates, this time to a Democratic president:

"The people of California would not highly regard me, and I would be without self-respect were I a mere 'yes' man. I never have been and I never will be."

And that pleases Californians very, very much.

ETERNAL VIGILANCE

As true today as when written 150 years ago:

"It is the common fate of the indolent to see their rights become a prey to the active. The condition upon which God hath given liberty to man is eternal vigilance; which condition, if he break, servitude is at once the consequence of his crime and the punishment of his guilt."—John Curran, 1790.

A GOOD EXAMPLE

"The example of four Presidents, voluntarily retiring at the end of their eighth year, and the progress of public opinion that the principle is salutary, have given it in practice the force of precedent and usage, in so much that should a President consent to be a candidate for a third term, I trust he would be rejected on this demonstration of ambitious views."—Thomas Jefferson, in a letter written in 1821.

Politically Speaking

by JOHN W. DUNLAP

United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 15 —(U.P.)—The legislature is scheduled to reconvene on December 2 but the claim of relief authorities that funds will run out in early September has dropped a perplexing problem in the laps of the politicians with the August primaries only a few days away.

SRA Administrator S. G. Rubinow wants the legislature to appropriate $1,873,750 to keep the SRA from closing up shop September 10. He said the relief rolls have been cut from a peak of 70,417 in July to 62,235 now, and the administration staff slashed by 1300 employees in an effort to bring expenditures within the earmarkings set by the legislature.

One of the administration arguments against the reelection of unfriendly legislators has been the passage of the last relief bill with its rigid restrictions. Many of the anti-administration bloc accused relief authorities of exaggerating the emergency of relief for political purposes. All of the legislators are opposed in principle against another special session of the legislature so close to the primary, but would be obliged to return to Sacramento early in September if the crisis were considered legitimate.

From the standpoint of harmony and solution of the problem, the recent appointment of Rubinow may have been a good move. Previous administrators have not been trusted by the anti-Olson element and various sets of figures were presented for argumentative purposes. But Rubinow has waded into the rather chaotic relief problems, without gloves, has earned for himself the admiration of both sides.

Rubinow defied the pressure groups at a recent meeting of the State Relief Commission. He has fired important SRA executives for talking out of turn or appearing to act against the best interest of the organization, such as the dismissal of G. L. Kuthe, Fresno area administrator, for opposing the taking of affidavits from SRA employees that they are not members of the German-American Bund, Communist Party or

Know Your AMERICA

(Ed. Note: This is one of a series of short articles taken from data compiled for scenes of "America! Cavalcade of a Nation", theme spectacle of the 1940 California World's Fair.)

The first successful newspaper in the American colonies appeared in 1704. It was known as The Boston News-Letter. By 1750 all the colonies except Georgia, New Jersey and Delaware were publishing their own little newspapers. But these colonial publications bore no resemblance to our modern paper. Most of them were published weekly, a four-page affair containing a few advertisements on Indian herbs, a story horse and a runaway slave. News columns were usually filled with state stories from England, and letters from colonial travelers abroad. But the Revolution brought keen interest in the news and the colonial publications finally found real voice with articles that later brought high praise even in the old world.

Rubinow even came in for praise from Senator John Phillips, Banning Republican and one of the leaders of the anti-Olson group. He said the joint fact-finding committee on relief approves Rubinow's work and was "anxious to do everything possible to assist him in carrying on until the legislature meets."

Contending Walter Chambers (last SRA administrator) made no economies to keep the SR in conformance with funds allocated by the legislature Phillips added:

"But now Rubinow is making a good showing in dealing with the chaotic conditions that existed when he took over, and our committee is favorably impressed by his efforts to iron out the situation as fast as possible."

Various members of the committee have commented they are opposed to a special session before December but if reliable figures can be produced that more money must be voted, an ad hoc need is legitimate.

San Quentin Prison, our spy advises, has become a seething inferno in recent weeks—anything can happen. Since the shakeup in management, which followed Governor Olson's ouster of the prison board, discipline has gone out the window, according to the grapevine, and things are going on behind the walls that may culminate in a terrific explosion. It's a nasty business at best.

U. S. Senator Hiram W. Johnson is a 2 to 1 favorite to win both nominations at the primary election, the betting agencies report. The same agencies are offering even money that the famous Rolph name will be back on the State roster after the election day. Tom Rolph, brother of the late "Sunny Jim", is expected to beat Representative Frank Havenner in the hotly-disputed San Francisco congressional battle.

another session will be called. This will be most unpopular among the lawmakers, for they have already been back to Sacramento at their own expense for two special sessions and still have the one in December.

There will be an almost certain number of "lameduck" legislators back for September (if called) and the December special sessions. The hatreds of the election campaign, will breed trouble for the session because feelings are none too good anyway.

Most persons will commend the move of Rubinow in pressing compulsory finger printing of all employees in the SRA. He was the first to have his prints recorded, bluntly wastebasketing the protests of labor and other groups that it was an invasion of personal liberties. He explained that all other state departments enforce this rule as a condition of employment.

Assembly Speaker Gordon Garland is making quite a home county campaign for election against the "purge" thrusts of the Olson administration. But it is understood that he wasn't taking his opponent, William M. McClearen, too seriously at the start of the campaign and was anxious to help his fellow legislators with their campaigning. McClearen began getting around to the voters, however, and Garland shelved his state-wide itinerary to come back and meet the home folks.

Political observers foresee one of the most spirited contests of the state in Garland's district of Kings and Tulare counties, undoubtedly the No. 1 goal of both factions in the legislature.

Volume UP
Price DOWN

IT HAS BEEN SAID that advertising increases the price of goods.

True, advertising is part of the manufacturer's and merchant's cost of doing business, all of which must be covered in the price of his goods if he is to stay in business.

But advertising helps boost sales and production. Bigger volume cuts cost per unit made and sold. To meet competition the saving is passed on to the public in the form of a lower price.

Think of the prices of radios, mechanical refrigerators and heating appliances, automobiles, light bulbs and other products when first introduced and sold in small volume. Compare with their prices today, after advertising won them enormous acceptance! Successful advertising decreases the price of goods.

TWO MEN SHOOT TRUCKEE RAPIDS

TAHOE CITY, Aug. 15—The first reportedly successful "shooting" of the Truckee River by Folboat was learned of here last Thursday by friends of John Rapp and Felix Smith of Frog Lake who landed in Truckee on Wednesday after completing the winding course of 13 rapid-filled, rapid miles in their frail craft. It was not learned whether the couple went on to Reno by the river or not. Rapp is a member of the well-known motorboat firm in San Francisco.

The following day—on Thursday—two men from Zephyr Cove started out in their home made Folboat to run the Truckee.

Mrs. Valentine Woodhouse of San Francisco, with her daughter Doris and son David are at the V. S. McClatchy home.

Miss Esther Rohrig of Phoenix, Arizona, who was a guest at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Paul Heise, returned home this week.

Henry's team had 1390 aggregate points against 1360 for the LaMarr team.

Highways on Sunday were thronged with motorists and additional traffic patrolmen were required to direct the thousands who attended the Lake Tahoe Yacht Club regatta at Chamber's. Cars were parked on both sides of the highway for miles in each direction but no accidents were reported in this region.

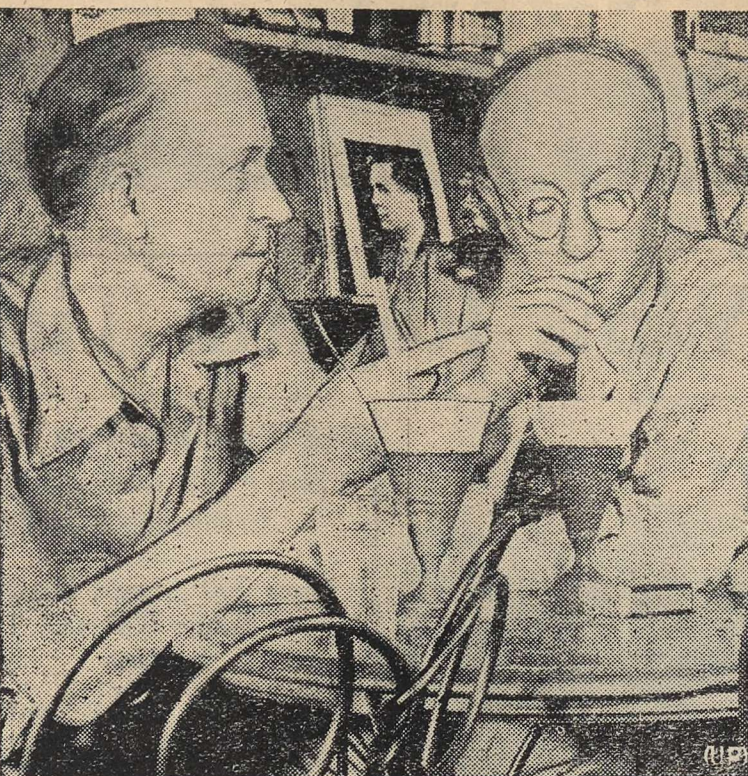

Mrs. Minerva S. Wright and her sister, Mrs. A. F. Lowe of Ogden, who have enjoyed a stay at the Wright cabin at Lake Tahoe, returned to Nevada City.

A convention of 60 county supervisors of Northern California will be held at Chamber's Lodge on September 15th.

SKI CLUB'S CARD PARTY IS SUCCESS

by I. M. EDWARDS

A charming sight greeted guests that came to play cards Friday afternoon, August 9, at the Tahoe Community Center. A miniature setting of Lake Tahoe in the summer time had been arranged by Ruth Summers. Tallies in the form of gayly-colored canoes were at each place. The pictures exhibited by Mrs. Charles A. Swanson aroused many enthusiastic comments, as few people realize what beautiful work can be done with a camera and oils. Two unusual pictures were of Lake Tahoe on a cold, wintry day with great breakers rolling into shore. Another was of "Mother Nature's Bedspread"—a wire fence covered with snow. Several pictures were sold and a part of the proceeds given to Tahoe Ski Club building fund. A substantial fund was raised as a result of this party to start the fund.

Auction and contract bridge were the popular games of the afternoon. The prizes for each table were hand made out of the native Tahoe cedar by a member of the club and aroused many admiring comments. The following guests won prizes: Mesdames J. W. Scamell, John Kristberg, H. C. Bradbury, Willis Hevel, Matt Green, Ogden Johnston, E. C. Rogers, J. L. Debenedetti and E. E. Prusso.

Other guests present were Mesdames F. J. Federighi, C. F. Prentiss, H. G. Rollins, H. D. Worden, J. Wilson, C. O. Valentine, John Reedy, Theodore Schleuter, A. M. Henry, A. P. Crist, Alice Miner, R. ## IMPROVED ROADS ARE NOTED BY AUTO CLUB

Travel to Lake Tahoe this season is enjoying greatly improved highways, states the Sacramento office of the National Automobile Club. On both the Auburn and Placerville routes—the direct roads to Sacramento—short stretches have been under construction most of the summer, but this has been so handled that a minimum of inconvenience has been presented to the motoring public.

Highway officers state that the removal of several of the 25-mile zones has resulted in a large drop in traffic arrests as well as the fact that the public is driving more carefully as a rule.

P. M. Weddell of San Jose, noted historian who has been so diligent in marking the Donner Party Trail, was a guest at the home of Dr. and Mrs. George Hinkle on Tuesday.

Gifts to the Tahoe Community Center building debt fund last were received from Hall Ross, Mrs. E. B. King, Mrs. Margaret L. Pierce and several others.

The Wednesday Red Cross meeting was postponed until next week at which time it is hoped that Mrs. Elizabeth Ashe of San Francisco will lecture on refugee and welfare work in France during the world war.

California Anglers Take 12,400,000 Trout Every Year

by BRIAN CURTIS, Senior Fisheries Biologist
Bureau of Fish Conservation, California Division of Fish and Game

Based on figures that we have been collecting for the past five years, we are able to state that the 340,000 California anglers catch 12,400,000 trout a year. Our information also shows us that these fishermen make a catch of 2,000,000 striped bass, 1,250,000 black bass, 1,300,000 carps, 1,700,000 fresh water perch and 160,000 salmon.

These numbers rest solidly on the reports that over 100,000 sportsmen a year have voluntarily made out for the Division of Fish and Game. The composite of the reported catches of cooperating sportsmen we may call the catch of Mr. Average Angler.

Mr. Average Angler last year caught 77 trout and he made his catch in Mono and Inyo counties, which according to all reports led the state in number of trout provided for the creel.

Someone may ask the question, "Can 100,000 fishermen be wrong?" This does not mean that we feel that the figures given us by individual sportsmen are wrong. Certain of them may have exaggerated, such as the man who stated that he caught 5,000 trout in one year. This, although legally possible if he fished every open day in the districts with the longest season, is perhaps an ambitious statement. However, even if all of the reports of catches of over 1,000 a year are discarded we still have a general average of over 76 trout taken a year by each angler and 1,000 trout is not many for a man who lives in good fishing country and goes out almost every day as some of them do.

To make certain that 100,000 were not wrong we decided to probe into the mysteries of the non-reporting sportsmen. To one in every twenty went a second questionnaire. Two thousand additional reports came back, small in number but indicators of the differences between the reporters and the non-reporters. Three facts appeared: (1) The average catch per man was practically the same, (2) the proportion of trout fishermen was lower and (3) some of the non-reporters caught no fish.

Early this year a third questionnaire went out to one in every ten licensed anglers. Again the replies backed up our original estimates.

Grappling with the information received from these reports gave us the figures above and a variety of other detailed information.

We learned, for instance, that about 12 per cent of those who buy licenses catch no fish, of which about half do not fish at all, while the others fish but catch nothing.

We learned we had to be cautious about ranking the counties because anglers in some parts of the state are more cooperative in turning in catch records than they are in other counties. Tulare and Tuolumne counties, for example, are both ranked tenth in the number of trout caught. Tulare County, however, is heavily fished by residents of Bakersfield and Los Angeles, who in the past have not been very enthusiastic about answering catch records. Tuolumne County, on the other hand, is fished a great deal by residents of Alameda, Stanislaus and San Joaquin counties, who have been quite cooperative with their catch records. It is possible because of this that, while the number of trout reported caught in Tulare County may be greater because of the greater unreported catch. The answer to this and other related problems awaits the day when more of the state's anglers may fill out the catch record report on their license application.

We learned that counties such as Siskiyou County, which had an average catch per fisherman of 91 trout, return such figures because most of their fishing is done by local people who fish a great deal many more days per year than outsiders would.

The figures shown may seem like a lot of trout. They may be more than the true numbers. But the figures are those given us by the fishermen of the state. They are the only figures that we can come to from taking what the anglers tell us and treating this information conservatively, scientifically and, one might almost say, prayerfully. They are figures that will have to stand until we get something better, and that means until more anglers turn in catch records. When the proportion of those who report grows from under 30 per cent to over 70 per cent then we shall begin to know concretely how accurate our estimates are.

American Airlines, Inc., transported 84,961 revenue passengers in July as compared to 51,546 in July, 1939, according to figures released this week by W. Thorne Rimes, sales manager for northern California, for the company.

Revenue passenger miles flown totaled 29,507,231 in July. Revenue passenger miles in July, last year, totaled 19,301,557.

New Streamlined Trains Are Put On Overland Route

Purchase of two new 17-car streamlined trains at a cost in excess of $4,000,000 was announced this week by Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Chicago & North Western railroads.

When completed next spring, one of the trains will operate between San Francisco and Chicago and the other between Los Angeles and Chicago on 39-hour schedules.

The new streamliner for the San Francisco run, an additional "City of San Francisco", will be jointly owned and operated by the three railroads, and the Los Angeles train, an additional "City of Los Angeles", by the Chicago & North Western and Union Pacific.

Both trains will be powered by Diesel-electric locomotives of 6000 horsepower consisting of three 2000 horsepower units, and will comprise the newest developments in design and construction. With their inauguration, San Francisco and Los Angeles each will have two 17-car streamliners on scheduled departures every three days to and from Chicago.

All cars will be of aluminum alloy and of the general contours of the streamliners now operated by the three railroads in transcontinental service, with modifications to make for more effective streamlining. The color design provides for harbor mist gray roof with sides of armor yellow trimmed with scarlet-red strippling and lettering, it was stated.

The interior of the cars and the facilities will represent the latest improvements in decoration and furnishings for passenger comfort. Fluorescent lighting is to be used in the club and lounge cars, the diners and chair cars, an all cars will be self-contained as to air-conditioning and lighting. The trains will be equipped with inter-communicating telephone systems and will have electric heat in addition to steam heat.

The cars are to be built by the Pullman-Standard Car and Manufacturing Company at its Chicago plant, and the Diesel-electric power units by the Electro-Motive Corporation, subsidiary of General Motors, at its La Grange, Illinois, plant, according to the announcement.

SAFETY FIRST

Almost anyone can install electrical wiring and electrical apparatus so that they will work after a fashion. But to install them so that the greatest degree of safety will be assured, that their mechanical perfection will be realized and that the installation will be forever free from constant tinkering is another matter.

And that brings up the matter of doing electrical work in a "maybe-or-may-be-not" fashion by yourself or having it done by an expert electrician. Each year the National Board of Fire Underwriters add up thousands and thousands of dollars, needlessly destroyed by fire through well meaning but incompetent workmanship of amateur electricians. Is your home, your most valued possession, worth gambling against the few dollars charged by the master electrician or the chances of fire through amateurish workmanship?
